Matters Arising not on main	None
Glascairn Community Project	Toilets/Potting Shed A couple of snagging issues remain – two taps have failed and the main door locking is causing concern. These issues are being pursued. Culbokie Green Additional tools have been purchased with the grants obtained and are contributing greatly to the work of the Green Team Having spent some time scything it was frustrating for the Green Team to find Tulloch Homes had arranged for Grounds and Gardens to cut the SUDS area. We will try to ascertain their yearly plans. Plans are in hand to install a main electrical feed to the Shelter; this will allow for hot water and a hotplate for events. Lighting will also be facilitated. Fun and Games on the Green was very successful with around 80 people attending. The High Life Pollinator count was also enjoyed by those attending but had fewer people involved, around 10. The Space We await a decision from Scottish Government as to whether our RCGF application will progress to the second stage. Meanwhile, having been encouraged by HIE to apply for a Delivery Officer, we have now been told we are ineligible as we are not yet at what counts for them as 'delivery'. It was somewhat ironic therefore	Paul

we were included. Penny and Lesley had had a meeting with HIE to discuss options for going forward. Following discussion it was agreed, once we had heard from SG • to ask HIE to review recent funding applications • to suggest other Highland projects we might contact • to seek an appointment with Kate Forbes to lobby for the Land Fund to allow capital grants for new build on land purchased thought their monies. We could offer to be a pilot project. • to contact the Scottish Land Fund to discuss the problem and alert to the inefficiency of the current model Active Travel Project Following a short delay the agreed contractor was now on site. The issue of the maintenance of the 'placemaking' areas needs to be determined. Although these are listed as 'to be maintained by CCT', this must be with money from Highland Council which would enable us to instruct Higher Ground (or similar). Paul will attend the meeting with THC; Penny to circulate the map showing the areas to be cut. CCCC Regular rides continue. The Food and Drink Festival on Sat 6th Sept is consuming the FR Group currently. All is in hand despite the occasional hiccup. Directors were thanked for agreeing to 'top and tail' the demos; they were also asked to consider donations for the Bottle Stall. CCT website proposals – The working group has postponed bringing the final revision proposals until after the Festival. Sharing Shed Fareshare continues to deliver every 2-3 weeks. Other donations are varied and stock rotates fairly quickly. There has been a range of fresh home grown fruit and veg donated recently. The July market was fairly quiet but the café still took £94. Woods Group No further update.		to find SG had issued a list of funded projects on which
