Blonde... Legally Blonde

The Legally Blonde musical is the latest production from the Selkirk Musical Theatre Company. Performances run from Tuesday 27 February to Saturday 2 March, including a Saturday matinee. Tickets available at <http://www.ticketsource.co.uk/selkirkMTC>

No Market in February

Just a reminder that there will be no Selkirk Farmers' Market in February but it will return in all its glory on Saturday 02 March, attended by SBC Councillors.

Silver Band Simply The Best

Selkirk Silver Band named 3rd Section Band of the Year by the Scottish Brass Band Association

The Scottish Brass Band Association have done the arithmetic, and have awarded Band of the Year to the Selkirk Silver Band in the 3rd Section.

The Selkirk Silver Band scored a total of 24 points, including those gained from Scottish and major National competitions. Second came the Shotts St. Patrick's Brass, and a crowded field included ensembles from Inverclyde, Perthshire, Croy, Langholm, Stranraer, Arbroath & Carnoustie and Whitburn. Each band receives 1 point for taking part, 1 additional point for each Scottish band in their own section which they defeat and 1 bonus point for being the winning band in their section. Not content to rest on their laurels, the Band will begin rehearsals in January for the Scottish Championships in March, competing this year in the 2nd section, following their win in the Scottish Championship last year.

A Bright Future

The latest meeting of volunteers supporting the idea of a Selkirk Future 'Town Team' was held on 17th January, in place of the rescheduled Nov 19 meeting. Many more new faces were present, so an overview was held of many of the suggestions made so far, followed by a wide-ranging discussion about various possibilities to be explored re: the structure and the focus of the team. Another meeting will be held in Feb to establish a list of short-term, medium-term and long-term goals.

Provost Appointed

Meanwhile the Selkirk Common Riding Trust appointed Rodney Pow (Incorporation of Hammermen) as Honorary Provost of the Selkirk Common Riding Trust on Jan 17th. Rodney takes over from Keith Miller (Corporation of Weavers) who had served since 2019. Honorary Provost Pow will be assisted by Andy Moyes (Selkirk Colonial Society) who was appointed Senior Ballie and Kevin Fairbairn (Selkirk Common Riding Executive) who was appointed Junior Ballie. Congratulations to Rodney. Preparations are now well under way for Selkirk Common Riding 2024.

Allan Walker of Selkirk Distillers unveiled his new venture on December 7th: ‘Tibbie’s - A Place To Share’, in the former premises of the Courthouse Cafe in the Market Place.

As you would imagine, it features Allan’s signature drinks, including Selkirk and 1953 gins, as well as Selkirk Rum and other cocktail ingredients, but Tibbie’s also serves platters of hors d’oeuvres, featuring selected cheeses and cold cuts sourced from various gourmet suppliers.

They are also featuring brunch at weekends, and on 26th Jan, there is a special Burns Night event, which has already sold out. Check out their Facebook page for more details.

The Immortal Memory was delivered by Ex-Hammermen Standard Bearer, Deacon and Honorary Provost Les Millar. Ex-Hawick Cornet Derek Inglis recited Tam O'Shanter.

The Toast to the lassies was delivered by Chris Bell, and the last word fell to Ex-Hammermen Standard Bearer Neil Purves, with Aaron McColm proposing the Vote of Thanks. The singers for the evening were Tommy Knox and Jimmy Gibb.

Meanwhile, Tibbie's wine bar / restaurant, 28 Market Place Selkirk, is hosting a special Burns Night supper on Friday 26th January. It is already sold out, but it is possible to join a waiting list if you contact them via Facebook.

The Selkirk Grace, although attributed to Burns, was already known in the 17th century as the "Galloway Grace" or the "Covenanters' Grace". It came to be called the Selkirk Grace because Burns was said to have delivered it at a dinner given by Dunbar Douglas, 4th Earl of Selkirk.

Death of the High Street May Be An Exaggeration

As Mark Twain said about reports of his own death, that of High Street shops may be exaggerated, but it is a valid concern. Selkirk’s story is repeated across the Borders - formerly established businesses closing down, adding to a sense of decline in Borders High Streets. However, as some shop doors close, others open.

© Grant Kinghorn

In Berwick Upon Tweed, for instance, an article by Stephen Scott of the Berwick Chamber of Trade and Commerce, mentions the impact of the new retail park there, as well as ongoing closure of national chains such as M&Co., plus continuing changes in consumers’ shopping habits. He then goes on to counter press fears of Berwick becoming a ‘ghost town’ by listing various positive developments. For instance, Yorkshire Trading Co. will be opening a large store in the town centre, while the former M & Co. store will be a Barnardos, albeit another charity store to add to those already trading. But there are also some thriving new independent stores, including Sugar Mountain, which opened last August, as well as Derrants@40, which saw an old building converted into a luxury home, fragrance and gift store.

Back in Selkirk, the closure of, in short order, the Courthouse Cafe, Scoop and The Fleece has caused understandable concern, especially about the state of the central part of the town, but there is good news about all three. As mentioned earlier in this issue, new wine bar/restaurant Tibbie’s opened in December and is already surpassing expectations, while the former Scoop premises will shortly have a new tenant. Similarly, The Fleece is under new management, and will re-open on 25th January, (or at least the bar) so, once all three of those operations are dispensing good will and good food and drink to customers, it should create a suitably uplifting atmosphere in the Market Place, as well as encouraging others to join them. Thanks to The Bridge newspaper and Stephen Scott for allowing them to be quoted.

The Haining Restoration Update

The renovation of the stunning Palladian mansion house on The Haining estate recently received a funding boost of £287,000, from the UK Government's UK Shared Prosperity Fund, administered by SBC. It will support the link building construction, plus a lift and a new commercial kitchen and toilets. Michelle Ballantyne, Trustee/CEO commented: "This grant will make a significant difference, as it will take the house the next step towards being finished and ready to re-open". The main building exterior refurbishment nears completion, with scaffolding expected to start coming down by the end of Jan - the first opportunity for visitors to the estate to really see the transformation.

The poor state of repair of the building's fabric was a challenge to the skills of a myriad of specialist builders, lead workers, stonemasons and joiners, but The Haining Trust is delighted that Laing Traditional Masonry, contractors for the exterior phase, have been "excellent to work with" and have delivered the renovation on budget. Funds for completion are still urgently required, and the Trust hopes the public will learn about Friends of the Haining, whose benefits will be explained by members of the Trust over the next couple of months, both at the Farmers' Markets and in the Pop Up shop. There will also be many volunteering opportunities.

Frustratingly, some youths caused damage over the holidays by breaking into the site, setting off fire extinguishers and damaging the newly carved stonework. There were also some fires set in the grounds, so the Trust requests that anything suspicious should be reported directly to the Police and or to the Trust. With The Haining's renovation in its final phase, it would be a shame for anyone to spoil this vital community asset.

Claim your Pension Credit!

Pension Credit is designed to help with daily living costs for people over State Pension age and on a low income, though you do not need to be in receipt of State Pension to receive it. It tops up a person's income to a minimum of £182.60 per week for single pensioners and to £278.70 for couples.

Apparently there is some £3.1million unclaimed in Scotland, so check today whether you are eligible. Many pensioners qualify for Pension Credit, but do not claim the extra financial help that can be worth over £3,300 a year.

Martin Lewis, founder and chair of MoneySavingExpert.com, is quoted on the UK Government website as saying: "Amidst the cost of living crisis, it's a national tragedy that getting on for a million pensioners are missing out on a major income boost. I'm not saying everyone will get it, but many will, and it only takes a few minutes to find out. So don't stall, just call."

*And not only is this serious money, it's also often a gateway entitlement that means you're due a range of other support, such as council tax reductions, the £650 extra energy funding help, warm home discount, housing benefit, dental and optical treatments and, for the over-75s, a free TV licence. So again, don't stall, just call!"

Pension Credit can be claimed by phone and online. The online Pension Credit calculator is also on hand to help pensioners check eligibility and get an estimate of what they may receive.

Save On Energy Bills!

Sustainable Selkirk is a community project by Selkirk Regeneration, whose aim is to help everyone save energy, money and emissions. Their friendly team of trained Energy Advisors provide home visits and community outreach sessions, to deliver free and impartial energy advice and support across the Scottish Borders.

Sustainable Selkirk Advisors supports householders by;

- identifying ways to save energy and save money
- providing a recommendations report of what energy efficiency improvements are suitable for homes
- helping understand energy bills and tariffs
- showing how to use heating controls effectively and efficiently
- speaking to energy suppliers on customers' behalf
- installing soft energy-efficiency packs (low-energy bulbs, draughtproofing, remote-controlled plugs)
- offering onward referrals to FREE energy efficiency schemes

Enquiries and bookings can be made to Angela MacKellar, Project Coordinator of Sustainable Selkirk:

angela@sustainableseirk.org.uk or 07496 997817. More information: <https://applyforleap.org.uk/>

John Nichol & Spoon; The Finale;
Fiona Gallagher as Cinderella and Julie Craig as Prince Charming.

The Victoria Halls rang to the sound of laughter when the 2023 panto played for a mere three performances on 28 & 29 December. Cinderella was the Association of Selkirk Clubs and Societies' was the year's family panto, and it featured a large cast of all ages, and an astonishing array of costumes, props and scenery, plus songs, dance routines and local gags.

Many traditional and some new characters were interpreted by an enthusiastic cast, with some comic routines, including some by a very fetching pair of Ugly Sisters (John Nichol and Graham Coulson).

The energy was maintained by rousing renditions of favourite songs (including one especial favourite 'Daydream Believer', which was performed several times), and the spectacular production was the perfect start to the festive season. Let's hope that the next production - due in 2025 - can compete. We await with eager anticipation.

25 Years of Friendship - A Plattling Christmas

Christkindmarkt in Plattling 2023

The 40th Christkindmarkt in Selkirk's twin town, Plattling, took place over the 2nd Advent weekend in 2023, from Thursday, 7th until Sunday, 10th December.

The Bavarian Christkindmarkt lets people get into the festive spirit by enjoying the aromas, sounds and activities of an outdoor Christmas market and festival in the town centre. Such markets are a delightful way to begin holiday festivities.

The crisp, cold air fills with the fragrance of sizzling sausages, spices and hot spiced glühwein. Booths also sell sweet treats, such as chocolates, cakes, pastries, cookies and candies. Traditional handicrafts at the markets include hand carved Christmas ornaments, decorations and gifts.

Music of Christmas fills the air to enhance the festive atmosphere. And, as you can see from the photo, the weather in 2023 certainly added further to the occasion. The Christkind or Christkindl, an angel-like creature with blond hair and wings, brings gifts to families on the eve of Christmas. Depicted as a blond female angel, the Christkind opens the Christmas season at Christmas markets every year.

Plattling visits to Selkirk in 2024 include:

Time For Turner In January

January, and only January, is the time when 38 magnificent watercolours by J. M. W. Turner, almost 200 years old, can be viewed - free! - in Edinburgh. In 1900, Henry Vaughan bequeathed 38 Turner watercolours to the National Galleries of Scotland, with the stipulation that they could only be exhibited 'all at one time free of charge and in the month of January and no longer'. This has conserved the delicate watercolours, which would fade if over-exposed to light, although they are made available throughout the year for study.

The collection, which includes evocative and dramatic landscapes from the Himalayas, the Swiss Alps and the Isle of Skye, is of additional interest because it contains two paintings related to Sir Walter Scott: one of a view of Melrose and another featuring Chiefswood Cottage on the Abbotsford estate. The exhibition can be viewed at the National Galleries for Scotland on Princes Street, until 31 January, daily 10am-5pm, admission free.

Turner's view of Melrose (1831-32) shows Melrose Abbey and the then-new (1826) chain bridge to Gattonside. Turner visited this spot, North of the Tweed, twice, and painted this watercolour as a gift for Sir Walter Scott. He seems to have included himself among the picnic party in the foreground, as the figure on the right, drawing beside an upturned parasol.

Cricket Update

by Neil Gentleman

For Selkirk Cricket Club the 2024 season can't come soon enough, but the Juniors have already started training indoors at the High School - all P6/P7 and SHS pupils are welcome to come along at 5.30pm every Tuesday. We are hopeful of a full set of hard ball fixtures for the juniors this year. Seniors haven't started training yet but please keep an eye out on social media - outdoor nets will resume after the Easter break. We would like to note our thanks to Donny McKenzie at South East Heating for agreeing to continue as first team shirt sponsor for 2024. If you are interested in other sponsorship opportunities at Selkirk CC please email secretary@selkirkcricketclub.co.uk.

Through the winter it is not just cricket at Philiphaugh. The bowling boards will be down in the changing rooms until the season starts, for anyone to use outside our organised fixtures (usually Friday evening). We also continue to provide an accessible space for community groups and we would be keen to hear from groups looking for a convenient and well resourced space for meetings and events. The clubhouse remains a popular location for private functions so if you are planning something please email enquiries@selkirkcricketclub.co.uk for more details.

Six nations rugby will be shown in the lounge through February and March and we will be trialling a pick up from the square in the club minibus for members who can't face the trek down the hill - again keep an eye on social media for this offer. The championship kicks off with a Friday evening fixture on 2nd Feb (France vs Ireland) with Scotland facing Wales on the 3rd Feb at 4.45pm. We look forward to welcoming you down for both fixtures.

Membership at the cricket club has been frozen again this year and at a modest £10 for individuals and £20 for family membership you won't find many cheaper sports clubs in Selkirk. The club is grateful to the ongoing support of members and the generosity of sponsors. The club is keen to make 2024 a successful year on and off the field and would welcome new members, players of all ages and sponsors. Please visit our website (<http://www.selkirkcricketclub.co.uk/>) or contact us at selkirkcricketclub@gmail.com.

Rugby Update

Selkirk finished off the year with a good win at Musselburgh on the 16th of December and sit 7th in the Scottish Premiership, having won five matches and lost ten.

The club welcomed Kieran Westlake who took over as Club Development Officer from Ewen Robbie, who moved on to pastures new. Selkirk A got a much-needed win in their last league game under the lights at Philiphaugh against Peebles Reds, 42-24. The A XV now play in the Border Junior Cup in the second half of the season.

This year's Selkirk Sevens will take place on Saturday the 11th of May at Philiphaugh. Please watch the club's Social media and Website over the coming weeks for details of the Hospitality package.

Selkirk Victoria FC Faces Major Challenges in 2024 writes Grant Kinghorn

One word that would be best to describe 2023 for Selkirk Vics would be SURVIVED. Finishing season 2022/23 without a manager after Nathan Douglas and Alan Kerr stepped down, the club appointed ex-Langlee manager Sam Burton and assistant Ian Stephen, who had just led the club's Under 16s to League success.

However, attracting committed bodies to the club has proved harder than expected, with the side only just being able to put a team on the park in some weeks, resulting in a poor run of results and Sam Burton leaving at the end of 2023.

With Ian Stephen stepping up to the manager position, numbers have slightly increased but a larger committee and a few more players will be required to take the club forward into a more successful 2024.

It Was 10 Years' Time Ago...

Ten years ago, on Sunday the 18th of January 2014 a large crowd followed the piper to Selkirk Hill for the Annual Haggis Hunt. (Photo Bottom right). Youngsters armed with Baggie nets charged all over the haggis breeding grounds on the Selkirk Hill. A record catch was made by the young hunters, mainly thanks to no anti-hunt protestors having shown up, probably down to the damp weather.
