Replacement of Christmas Tree

Abies nordmanniana is a large, evergreen tree with a broad, pyramidal crown and evenly spaced branches that grow horizontally. This tree has a grey/brown smooth bark that develops grooves with age and dark-green needle like leaves. In spring cones begin to form, these emerge as shades of green and red, ripening to brown in the autumn before falling. This low maintenance tree will reach a mature height of 20m, growing well in full sun and moist, well-draining soils. A popular choice for
