

News article in Scotsman newspaper

“Ones to watch in 2023: Ryan Corbett - the classical accordionist with starring role at King Charles III coronation service”

“With live dates and recording sessions piling up, as well as a starring role at the service for King Charles III at St Giles’ Cathedral, classical accordionist Ryan Corbett is looking forward to a hectic 2023.”

See his Facebook clip <https://www.facebook.com/reel/6867780743254259>

Seniors may recall Ryan as a guest at lunch in July 2014 when still at school aged 15 years. We learnt that at age 7 he started piano and violin lessons and at age 10 taught himself accordion. Then in 2013 began classical accordion tuition at Royal Conservatoire of Scotland. He returned as a guest to our lunch in July 2017, when at St Mary’s Music School in Edinburgh, when we heard more fantastic playing. For more on Ryan see above Facebook page.

