Editorial.....

I'm not sure how big a readership the previous digital-only issues attracted so I've no qualms about re-using some of the earlier photos in this issue.

Now that we're back in print, costs have to be met so adverts are no longer free of charge.

The clock is also re-started on finding a new editor – as I said at the beginning of the year, I will be stepping down after the next four issues. Hopefully someone will come forward before then so that there will be a smooth hand-over. Anyone interested can get hold of me by the email address at the foot of the front page.

Some of our businesses have been able to carry on, albeit under difficult conditions and we are extremely grateful to everyone involved.

The newly-painted Blue Post is gradually getting back into the swing of things. We've enjoyed working our way through the excellent take-away menu.

As the photos on the front cover reflect, many of the features which make this village so pleasant are quietly maintained by dedicated helpers who get on with the job whatever the circumstances.

An advert here doesn't necessarily mean that a business is open – you need to 'phone to find out. In some cases the advert is in so that they are not forgotten during the lockdown.

Please keep the stories coming in – photos in particular are always appreciated. If you have something to put in but can't send me a digital file, handwritten copy will suffice and I will type it up. You may have a service to offer or be a tradesman and an advert in this newsletter would reach every household in the village. We welcome your support.

Any spare copies of the newsletter will be available at Cherrys garage.

Thanks as always to Alma Printers of Driffield for their help and prompt, efficient services.

WOLDS WANDERERS

No group walks yet, but since the relaxation of lockdown rules, Ann and I have been taking ourselves off and most recently went to Broxa Forest. This is an area near Silpho beyond Hackness with spectacular views from the escarpment. The heather was in full bloom and walking conditions were excellent along well-maintained forest tracks. It is a popular area, attracting a lot of families but there was plenty of room to keep our distance.

One of the highlights was a good sighting of a Green Woodpecker foraging among the many ant-hills.

History Group

Again the History Group did not meet, which this time would have been the summer outing. At the time of writing the social centre has no plans to open in the near future so I have taken the decision to cancel September's meeting.

I will contact all members directly about the November meeting and how we might proceed.

Sorry for any inconvenience.

I was told a story the other day about a plane that crashed into a field behind the Blue Post during the 2nd world war.

I found this information on line but wondered if anyone knew more about the incident?

Note. The crew had arrived at Lissett on 3 December 1944 and were engaged in their sixth sortie; their Halifax was named "Lili Marlene". When written off this bomber had taken part in sixty-two operational sorties.

Extract from W R Chorley's "Bomber Command Losses"

Hanau: 6/7th January 1945

The return trip from Germany had been uneventful and the aircraft and its crew were the second from the Squadron to return to Lissett where they were given permission to land immediately. The Pilot, F/Sgt. Anderson recalled that the aircraft drifted slightly away from the runway at a late stage of the landing approach. Since the runway length would not permit a delayed touchdown point he had decided to overshoot and go round again and applied overshoot power and brought up the undercarriage. At this point the number four engine cut and was immediately feathered by himself and the Flight Engineer, Sgt. Munday. They thought everything was under control and the altimeter was showing 400 feet above the ground when, still travelling at about 150 mph with the engines running at full power, the crash occurred. The aircraft began to disintegrate as it careered over farmland and through hedgerows. It came to rest in a field at the rear of the Blue Post public house in North Frodingham, East Yorkshire. The crash occurred at 22.15hrs. The air bomber was killed, Dick Munday was seriously injured and the remainder of the crew were taken to the Station Sick quarters at Lissett for treatment to minor injuries.

Mature Mayhem

The group was started to encourage friendship with gentle exercise whilst having fun. I think it is safe to say that we all enjoy our Friday afternoon get-togethers but since lockdown we have been unable to do this, and whilst exercising at home is not compulsory it isn't as much fun. Most of the people who come to Mayhem are over 70 so have been advised to stay at home. Thank goodness for the good weather we have all been able to enjoy. Some live alone, but with help from family, friends and neighbours we are all surviving and looking forward to the future. A walk round the village or a trip to the doctors is as far as most are allowed, and a phone call here and there is great. By doing these simple things we have been able to keep in touch. Computers and online shopping might have advantages but physically seeing and talking to people has much greater rewards.

Thank you to all who have helped us.

Joan.

Coronavirus Update

As you are probably aware Sunday services are now taking place in our benefice, one service each Sunday at one church, these are communion services, if slightly different to what we are used to. Rev'd James will keep us updated via the 'Gateway to Holderness Parishes' Youtube channel each Friday afternoon, as to when and where the following Sunday service will be. If you don't have access to the internet you can give Ann or myself a ring and we will hopefully be able to give you the information you require.

We all look forward to getting back to some kind of normality but if you aren't ready yet to attend a church service and have access to Youtube Rev'd James is still going to continue with his online service each Sunday, for the time being.

Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

Parish Council

My time as Clerk is coming to an end in late October as I realise that I'm not the administrator that I'd hope to have been. Experiencing the ups and downs of my wife catching the virus has taught me that there is more to life so onwards and upwards. Some changes coming before I leave are the replacement of our two notice boards with two aluminium ones will at least keep the notices dry and hopefully visible. We hope to use the main one, in the Millennium Garden for all the legal notices and event advertising alongside historical features relating to our area. In addition, we have begun the transition to a new website which will incorporate all of the modern standards that are required of us as a local authority. I hope to have it completed before I leave although I could do with some more grey matter to help out.

My

If there is anything that you feel should be on the website then please send me a message and I'll do all I can. The Councillors do not have a meeting in August as traditionally it is the holiday season, whatever that is these days.

Our next meeting is on Monday 14th September at 7.30pm on Zoom. If anyone wishes access to the Zoom meeting please email me a few days before and I will send you the link. Local Councils are subject to rules that do not permit us to discuss and decide unless the item is on our agenda so if you have any issues that you wish to bring to the attention of the Council then please contact me at least a week before the meeting so that consideration can be given to put on the agenda. Any queries please do not hesitate to contact me on email northfrodpc@gmail.com or 01262 481331

Due to the Coronavirus all meetings are still suspended until further notice. We seem to have missed out on so much since lockdown, not just our meetings but our outing and charity fundraisers have had to be cancelled. I'm sure, like me, we are all missing each other's company. Let's hope it isn't too long before 'normal service can be resumed' and we can meet up again. In the meantime you can still find recipes & craft ideas on the YCA website:

Protecting Communities, Targeting Criminals

Due to an increase in reported wildlife crime we are targeting rural areas. We ask that you report any suspicious activity using 101 or our website. If the incident is ongoing and of an urgent nature please consider the use 999. As crops are harvested there is more available land for persons with dogs to trespass on. We believe that the increase in reports are due to our area having a large population of Brown Hares and we note that suspects are travelling great distances to commit these crimes.

Dog Thefts are on the rise since lockdown

Since Lockdown and with more people working from home and finding themselves with extra time, the demand for dogs has soared across the country. Sadly this has in turn resulted in huge increases in prices which has led to criminals taking advantage of the situation by stealing dogs in an attempt to sell them on at a high price.

Dog owners are advised to:

- Never leave your pet in the garden unattended
- Make sure your dog is microchipped and their details are updated so that they can be returned if they are stolen and subsequently found.

- Avoid leaving a dog tied up outside a shop or left alone in a car, even for a few minutes

Anyone with information about a stolen dog, or suspicious behaviour, can report it to police on 101 If your dog is stolen then it's vital to report it to police but please also consider reporting the theft to your local authority dog warden and notify your microchip database provider.

Report the theft to doglost.co.uk or their Facebook page as they co-ordinate thefts for each county and offer advice and support.

From the Ward Councillors

As the weeks go by organisations, businesses & groups are finding ways of holding meetings or generally getting back in touch. East Riding of Yorkshire Council has adopted a video link method to hold meetings, via Microsoft Teams, and Zoom, and have held the last 2 Full Councils meetings using a hybrid mix of an accepted number of councillors attending County Hall using social distancing with the rest joining via a video link. All main council meetings and committee are now capable of being watched live and accessible to watch after the event on You Tube – please go onto the East Riding website to access – for those interested!!

Since adopting this method of work on 4th June meetings that have been live streamed have had a total of 4,556 views recorded or 1,208 hours watched.

Over 3,000 staff at County Hall in Beverley were equipped to work remotely from home within days of lockdown being introduced and serious consideration is being made as to how the future workplace will look as there have been many positive outcomes from 'home' working as well as some negative ones.

Parish councils are also adopting different methods for getting back together to deal with their work, some are using video link whilst others, when they are able are using large rooms to meet, introducing social distancing & other safety measures. Whilst in our view you cannot beat meeting face to face that is not always possible & video is a good second best.

We thought it might be of interest to highlight some of ERYC services which have continued during lockdown.

Community Response Hubs were set up in March to provide support to those who needed it during the initial stages of the pandemic, they were intended to supplement not replace the wonderful work that many volunteers, community groups & parish councils already undertake. To date, the 01482 393919 Community Hub number has taken 14,930 calls generating 8,900 tasks that have needed to be carried out. In addition, ERYC have been making outbound calls to residents who they have reason to believe might benefit from the services offered by the Community

Response Hub. The council have so far made 28,408 such calls. However, over recent weeks, incoming call numbers have dropped right off. At present, averaging around 25 calls per day. A few weeks ago, the average was 260 calls per day (weekdays) and on 9 April, for example, 409 calls were received. Despite the drop off in call numbers ERYC are maintaining the nine locality hubs dotted around the East Riding, partly with an eye to the future & ongoing legacy but also to ensure the council is ready to respond should calls once again increase in the future.

Planning for example where staff have been able to work from home, site visits were stopped for the first month of lockdown, but from late April visits recommenced and erecting site notices. Figures for the period 1 April - 31 July 2020 were 8% down on application numbers but are increasing week on week again until they are now back to usual levels of approximately 130 applications a week.

For your information there were eight planning applications submitted for the North Frodingham Parish area between April 2019 to July 2019 and seven received between this April 2020 to July 2020.

Just a reminder: residents can register on public access to be notified via email of any planning applications in a defined area (e.g. street, parish). This service could be helpful for any residents who may be staying indoors at the moment.

Anti Social Behaviour During the lockdown period some of the parishes in our ward have experienced increased numbers of visitors, especially those parishes near the coast. Some visitors have not always been as considerate as they might be arriving in large numbers, parking inconsiderately and leaving volumes of rubbish behind. All this has been dealt with by ERYC who have sent parking enforcement officers down or teams of people to clear up the litter.

Strange times indeed but when we look back over the last few months, people and councils of all sizes have coped remarkably well and we believe the emphasis must continue to be on local issues and caring for the safety & wellbeing of local residents.

The Annual "Tour de Frod"

Sunday 6th September 2020

Police have received reports about a TV Licensing Scam which has been sent to email addresses in your area. The email LOOKS to be genuine and states that your TV License is about to expire, or, that you are owed a refund. The email will direct you to click on a link to claim or pay; this will transfer you to a FAKE WEBSITE.

The TV Licensing organisation will ALWAYS use, donotreply@tvlicensing.co.uk to email you.

The scammers cannot send emails using this address.

Normally, they come from a personal email account, one which you may be familiar with, or more commonly, one which looks unusual.

Scammers often hide their true email address. To check the email address to see if the sender is who they say they are, follow this instruction:

On your own computer / phone, use the cursor to hover over the sender's name (or email address) to show the actual emailer's address.

If you see any of these suspicious emails, DO NOT REPLY with your details; nor should you open any links or any of their documents.

DELETE THEM STRAIGHT AWAY!

If you're still unsure, you can contact the TV Licensing company directly, using the phone number which is on the official TV Licensing website or go to <https://www.tvlicensing.co.uk/faqs/FAQ288>

Criminals are exploiting the COVID-19 pandemic to try and get their hands on your money and personal information. To date, Action Fraud has received reports from 2,378 victims of Coronavirus-related scams, with the total losses reaching over £7million.

How to protect yourself from Coronavirus-related scams:

There are some simple steps you can take that will protect you from the most common Coronavirus-related scams. Here's what you need to do:

1 Watch out for scam messages

Your bank, or other official organisations, will never ask you to share personal information by email, telephone or text. If you receive an email you're not quite sure about, forward it to the Suspicious Email Reporting Service (SERS): report@phishing.gov.uk

2 Shopping online.

If you're making a purchase from a company or person you don't know and trust, carry out do some research first, for example, by checking to see if others have used the site and what their experience was. If you decide to go ahead with the purchase, use a credit card if you have one, other payment providers may not provide the same protection.

3 Unsolicited calls and browser pop-ups offering tech support.

Never install any software, or grant remote access to your computer, as a result of a cold call.

Remember:

Legitimate organisations would never contact you out of the blue asking for financial details such as your PIN, your account number or a banking password.

for you and your pets.

- We have telemedicine consultations available daily.
- Prescriptions/ food can be ordered from the practice by email, phone and Facebook. These can be collected throughout the day at an allocated time slot (please be aware order times may be delayed so make sure you let us know in advance)
- For general advice, please don't hesitate to get in touch via email or Facebook page. As our phone lines are very busy at present, this will help us to deal with your queries as quickly as we can.
- Our 24/7 Out Of Hours clinic is still running from our Bridlington Branch.
- We are now able to do vaccinations for puppies, kittens, rabbits and annual boosters for pets that are most at risk. Please contact the surgery to find out more.

Please don't walk into the practice. We need to keep everyone safe.

Instead, phone us and explain your situation. We'll arrange a suitable way of conducting your appointment that is in everyone's best interests. There are a variety of options available to everyone - the important thing is to let us know and we'll work together!
