Editorial

Retiring editor.....

David Bannister has now retired after four years as editor of this newsletter and I would like to take this opportunity to thank him, on behalf of the village, for all the hard work he has put in gathering and collating the various submitted contributions. It was always his intention to produce a newsletter which was relevant to life in the village and I think his success in this was reflected in the fact that the earlier twelve page black and white issues gradually morphed into colourful sixteen, twenty and even twenty-four page newsletters full of local content.

Other significant contributors who deserve recognition are Joy Harris and Kathryn Kell, two of those who work tirelessly behind the scenes to make things happen.

Open letter to the next editor....

The Village Voice is in good shape supported by a variety of local businesses. David outlined in the last issue what he did in the rôle of editor but the job sharing can be negotiable. Neither David nor I were particularly adept when it came to page layout and we don't have sophisticated software but when everything slots together there is a great deal of satisfaction to be had. All it needs is a bit of enthusiasm and the willingness to have a go. You learn as you go along – I've discovered functions on my keyboard that I never knew existed! You won't be expected to do everything all at once. I can continue as treasurer and deal with advertising so we know what the budget will be and, if need be, I will see to printing and distribution. What we need is someone – you don't have to be another Harmsworth or Northcliffe – with a bit of spare time to spend in front of a computer and the desire to add something extra to village life.

I look forward to hearing from you.

I'm very appreciative of the continued help and support of the group of distributors who enable this newsletter to reach every household very swiftly. Spare copies are available at the Post Office. All households in the parish should receive a copy – if you are missing out, please get in touch and I will amend the distribution list.

Please keep the pictures and articles coming in – it's what makes the newsletter.

The swift, efficient services of Alma Printers of Driffield (01377 255278) are as much appreciated as ever.

And finally....

I was looking forward to the Beeb's series of adaptations of classic novels shown recently but the first one, Lady Chatterley's Lover sent me scrambling for my schoolboy copy of DH Lawrence's original story (Penguin hardback, 3/6^d, "complete and unexpurgated!").

Is it just me or did anyone else think it was a bit of a lash-up? DHL describes at some length the spring flowers, particularly the woodland at bluebell time, so why on earth did some of the action take place surrounded by Himalayan Balsam? And some of the extra scenes looked as if they were out-takes from a dodgy Paul Whitehouse sketch!

However, the following week's offering, An Inspector Calls, was superb so full confidence was restored.

WOLDS WANDERERS

Another beautifully sunny Sunday in September saw a good turn-out meeting near the church in Millington. We took the lane to the west of the village and then south onto the footpath which ascended gently to the ridge. Along here we had wonderful views over the village and the wider Wolds all the way to York. Following the Chalkland Way into Sylvan Dale, the area appeared remote and tranquil. The Roman road brought us out above Millington Woods, making the return leg via Little Givendale Farm.

Allerthorpe Common

Overlooking Millington

The October walk, organised and led by Andrea, was a complete contrast in that the country was entirely flat and in a mix of woodland, heath and arable farmland. Fine and dry overhead, we met at the carpark on the Common and headed for Allerthorpe across the former golf course at Waplington Hall. From there we turned back for a leisurely stroll through pine and heather, and birch and oak which were beginning to show rich autumn colours. A very pleasing and relaxed walk for the lucky thirteen who took part.

ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE GARDEN SHOP

Please note the planned changes to our opening hours with effect from January 2016. We will be closed Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays. We have come to this decision for several reasons but the most important being Jeff's desire to "semi retire" mainly for health reasons. He is not getting any younger and is starting to feel his age! Thank you to all who have supported us over the years and hope you will continue to do so! Thanks again, Jeff and Diane.

My Last Trip

Towards the end of July 1945 the war in Europe had been over for three months but the war in the Far East was still continuing. I was a radio operator and was sent to join a ship in Immingham, the SS Empire Mortimer, a war-time built 10,000 ton cargo carrier.

She was loading Army stores for the Far East, among which were 6,000 tons of petrol in jerry cans which amounted to about a quarter of a million separate items – all to be manhandled. No pallets or fork-lifts then, so a slow laborious job.

I mention here that my wife in Beverley was expecting our first-born, so I was trying to get there whenever possible. This involved train to New Holland, ferry to Victoria Pier, town bus to bus station, and then East Yorkshire bus to Beverley. Time taken: 2½-3 hours, distance about 50 miles. (A bridge was needed!)

And then our daughter was born, the bomb was dropped, Japan surrendered and the war was over. Our first thoughts were that these supplies would not be needed and we wouldn't be going. But no, we carried on loading and, having completed, we said goodbye to Immingham and departed, bound for Rangoon.

Parish Council

Yesterday the Parish Council finally placed the order for a cardiac defibrillator which will be fixed to an outside wall of the Blue Post. This brings North Frodingham into line with other villages in the area and will hopefully be a vital yet rarely used asset for the community. The Ambulance Service is to talk to residents about the device at an open meeting in the Village Hall. Details of this will be posted on all three notice boards and you are encouraged to come along for an hour and find out about this new village asset.

Cemetery news, the second phase of tree work will be carried out before the end of this year. Trees to the east, centre and south of the cemetery will have crowns lifted, dead branches removed and ivy disentangled, as necessary.

Two changes to the way the Parish Council operates are taking place, both involving electronic communication! Planning applications are now to be managed via the Internet and be available for anyone to monitor. Access is quite simple provided you have an Internet connected device: Type East Riding Council into your search engine and wait for the home page contents to appear; click on the section marked Planning & Building Control; next screen click on Search for Applications in Your Area; then click Open Access. This gets you to a page where you can open the file you need by typing in a reference number or a line of the address. Good Hunting!

The other change will also make it easier for you to monitor the work of your Parish Council without attending the meetings, reading the Noticeboard at the Millennium Garden, or requesting information from the Clerk. All small Councils are to publish full details of annual accounts and members, Minutes and Agendas, on dedicated websites. Our site is currently under construction and should be operating before the end of 2015 and is intended to replace the current system of external auditing of accounts, by 2017. Paper copies of the Agenda will still be posted on the main noticeboard each month and of course you are still welcome to attend any of the Parish Council meetings, second Monday in the month in the village Hall at 7.30pm. The Parish Council is still looking for two residents to make up the quota of Councillors, how about YOU?

Social Centre

Most of you will have seen the newly painted Main Hall by now, if only in a photograph, so far we have only had a very positive response to the work carried out by the teenage volunteers from around the East Riding. However we have also had the benefit of local volunteers, particularly Mr Geoff Rudd, who have completed staining woodwork on the outside of the Hall. On behalf of the users of the hall, THANK YOU so much.

Our Hall now provides a venue for so much of the social activity in the village, with at least ten groups meeting on a regular basis, lots of private parties, informative talks, etc. Even if you do not make use of the facilities, can you imagine the impact on village life if it closes because there are too few volunteers to keep the management committee functioning? Please think about giving a few hours each month to join the committee and keep this asset operational.

Mature Mayhem

Meeting attendance has picked up now that the colder weather is on its way and we are still enjoying the games, exercise and social contact that Mature Mayhem offers. We have just added a game of giant 'Jeronimo' to the range of activities; this involves moving blocks of wood from the middle of a tower to the top of the structure, until the whole unstable edifice collapses. Good for hand/eye co-ordination and careful appraisal of a task, but even better for making a lot of legitimate noise! If you tend to spend Friday afternoon on your own watching 'telly' or doing your knitting, why not come along to the Village Hall, have a laugh, make a noise and enjoy a cup of tea and biscuit, and have a good gossip with the neighbours.

We meet Friday afternoons 2–4pm, for an entrance fee of £1.

School Report

A busy half term as usual here at North Frodingham Primary School. The children returned from the summer holidays and have settled so well into new class groups. A variety of Sporting events have been attended, organised by the Driffild Sports Cluster, Football and Tag rugby to name a few. Our older children have also had Golf tuition from Ivan Oliver which they have thoroughly enjoyed. Parents evenings have been held and Class 2 and the FSU have visited Dalby Forrest and the Sideoven Bakery respectively. All this in just 7 weeks.

We are now looking forward to the Christmas term in school and all of the excitement that it brings.

Can I also draw your attention to the retirement of Mary Brown, the school Caretaker. She has worked at school for 28 years now so it really is the end of an era. We are all sorry to see Mary go as she is such a fantastic member of our school team but we are all busy planning ways in which she can still help us in School. If you would like to wish Mary well we are organising a coffee afternoon from 2.30pm on Thursday 17th Dec in the school hall.

Notes

It was lovely to welcome the Nth Frodingham Primary School children and their families to the church on October 1st for their Harvest Service, all the children took part in the service reading and singing, thank you to them and to their teachers and helpers for making it possible. This was followed in the evening by the Village Harvest Thanksgiving and Supper. Thank you to all those who helped to decorate the church and for providing the supper, it was much appreciated.

As I write this Christmas still seems a little way off despite the array of goodies that have been in the shops for at least a couple of months, but as this is the Dec/Jan edition of the VV we take this opportunity to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Peaceful New Year and hope that we will be able to welcome you to church for Carols and mulled wine/mince pies on the 13th December and/or our services on Christmas Eve.

History Group

'The Adventurous Stewarts' were the topic for September's meeting of the history group. Twenty members assembled to hear Peter Rogers, who had been unable to meet us at Burnby Hall Gardens, give his talk, illustrated with many photographs, about five of the fourteen children of Rev. and Mrs James Stewart. Flora, who was a devout Christian, killed in China whilst working as a missionary. Douglas, who became a midshipman on an iron barque that transported migrants to Australia and was just eighteen when the ship went down with all hands in 1888. Arthur Stewart, the youngest of the family, who moved to Canada at the age of 24 years, but returned to fight for England during the Great War. The last of the five was Percy Stewart, who was eventually responsible for the purchase and donation of Burnby Hall to Pocklington. Percy and his wife had travelled around the world several times and collected the unusual artefacts that form the basis of the small Museum collection.

When the talk finished, Polly Stead gave the vote of thanks and informed Peter that he had been totally forgiven for not meeting us on the day of the outing. In her words 'you've totally redeemed yourself, love'.

The Local History group meets six times a year for an annual fee five pounds, that includes visiting speakers, a Social evening in November and a Summer outing – to coin a phrase 'you can't get better value than that'.

In September we were treated to an insight into Life on a Market Stall by Miss G Rowe who had spent many years 'standing market' selling haberdashery, being asked for among other things, Tartan Cotton?

October saw us welcome Mr & Mrs Richardson back to our meeting with an Antiques quiz. We were able to show our knowledge of objects from the past, I must admit I found it a little worrying that I knew what quite a few of the objects were!

Future Meetings .

9th Dec. 'Xmas Party Night'. competition: A home-made cracker.

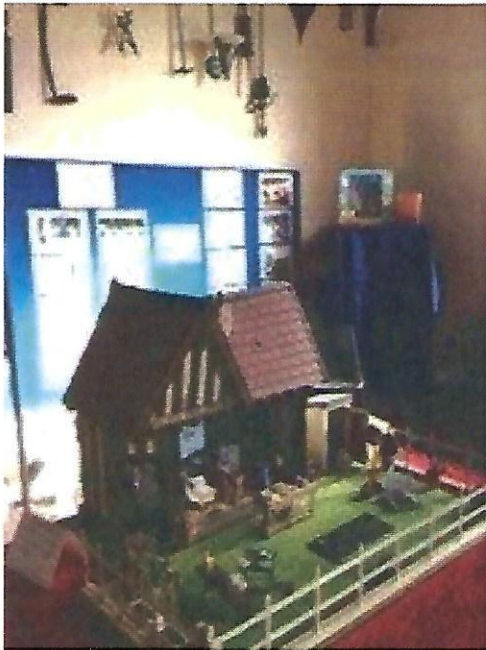

13th Jan. Mr R. Beard - My Life as a Magician. competition: A depiction of a song title..

Thank you to everyone who supported our McMillan Coffee Morning in September you helped to raise £377.45 for the charity.

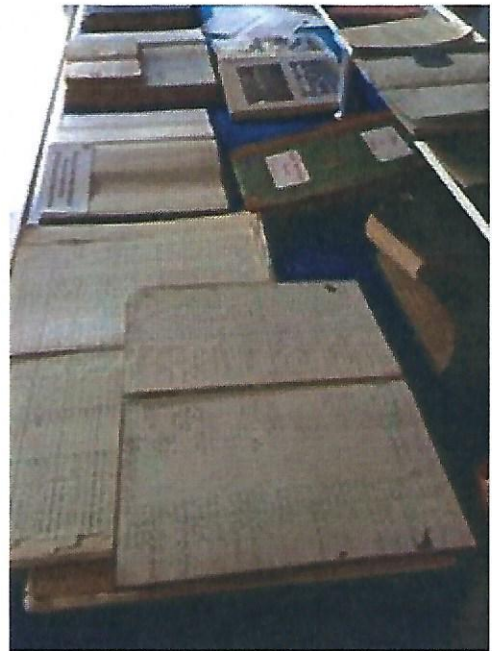

New members are always welcome. Just come along to a meeting or for more information speak to any YCA member.

Museum Display 2015

If you didn't manage to visit the '100 years of Childhood' display this year, you missed well over 150 assorted toys, books and games loaned by local residents.

The centre piece was a detailed model of a schoolroom, circa 1900, complete with outside loo, dunce and gowned teacher. To say nothing of the tiny Natural History folders in front of each child.

Also available to stir the memory were copies of a School log book and attendance register and photographs of Frodingham students from 1919 to 2007.

The Museum, in the Cemetery, is now closed until next year when the History Group will be mounting a 'Trades and Tradesmen' display depicting something of life in Frodingham in 1901 – 1911. If you have anything that could be of use in this exhibition, please contact one of the members of the History Group or, better still, come along to the next meeting Thursday November 26th.

STANDING ROOM ONLY in the Village Hall, Friday 30th October, as 127 residents from Frodingham, Beeford and Foston got together to discuss the proposed anaerobic digestion plant on the outskirts of Beeford.

The meeting, organised by Mrs Lisa Goodall with the help of the Parish Council, was chaired by Mrs Angela McKie and Mr David Goodwin with the support of our local MP, Sir Greg Knight.

As expected the main source of disquiet was the increase in traffic through the villages, as food, fish and vegetable waste is ferried to the digestion plant. Estimates varied but all agreed the total number of two-way journeys involved would be in excess of the 7-9 per day claimed by the applicant.

Other concerns were the loss of amenity, potential for waterway pollution, risk of gas explosion and obnoxious smell.

Sir Greg Knight suggested that our strongest objection was the narrow, twisting nature of our country roads, unsuitable for the increase in heavy goods vehicle movement. He urged everyone present to make known their objection to the case officer before the deadline for response, as indeed he claimed he would be doing Monday morning.

Reports have been received from around the Force area of a gentleman stating he was representing Everest Glazing, but when asked to provide ID, he refused. The gentleman was of white European appearance with a north eastern accent. He tried extremely hard to gain access to the properties where persons answered their doors to him. Cold callers are a fact of life, but if you are unsure as to their reason for attending at your property, request some form of ID. When this is given to you, if you are still not sure about them, ask them to wait outside, ensuring your door is securely closed/locked and contact the company they claim to represent. We have had instances recently whereby persons representing the Red Cross have been out canvassing – when checks were made on them, it was proven they were in the areas with the knowledge of the Red Cross. Never feel you are wasting police time by making such a call, if persons are found to be in your area legitimately, it is peace of mind for you. However, in some instances the information you are able to impart to us may provide us with a part of a puzzle we may have been looking for.

As the dark nights approach, there has been an influx of calls to Humberside Police regarding poachers on farm land. Please remain vigilant – if you see a vehicle(s) parked near farm land with dogs with them, there is a chance they may be there against the farmer's wishes. Please do not approach them as they be armed, if possible obtain their vehicle registration details and call it in on 101. Checks can be made and a patrol deployed if it is deemed necessary.

We are approaching the festive season in the not too distant future. If you go shopping, be it for Christmas presents or otherwise, please ensure any items left in your vehicles are not left clearly in view. Wherever possible store them in the boot out of the sight of would-be thieves; if it is not possible to store them in the boot, cover them with a blanket or something similar. Lastly, take great care with credit cards; don't let anyone see you input your pin number. You don't know who is standing behind you in a queue.

Take care and have a safe and happy festive season.

Photovoltaic (PV) Panels

PV collectors utilise free energy from the sun and daylight to generate electricity. SH Energy are currently installing small domestic systems, less than 2kW (eight panels), up to 50 kW systems on commercial buildings. For this edition we would like to provide a little information about how East Riding of Yorkshire Council is working with communities, in what we all know are financially challenging times

Transport

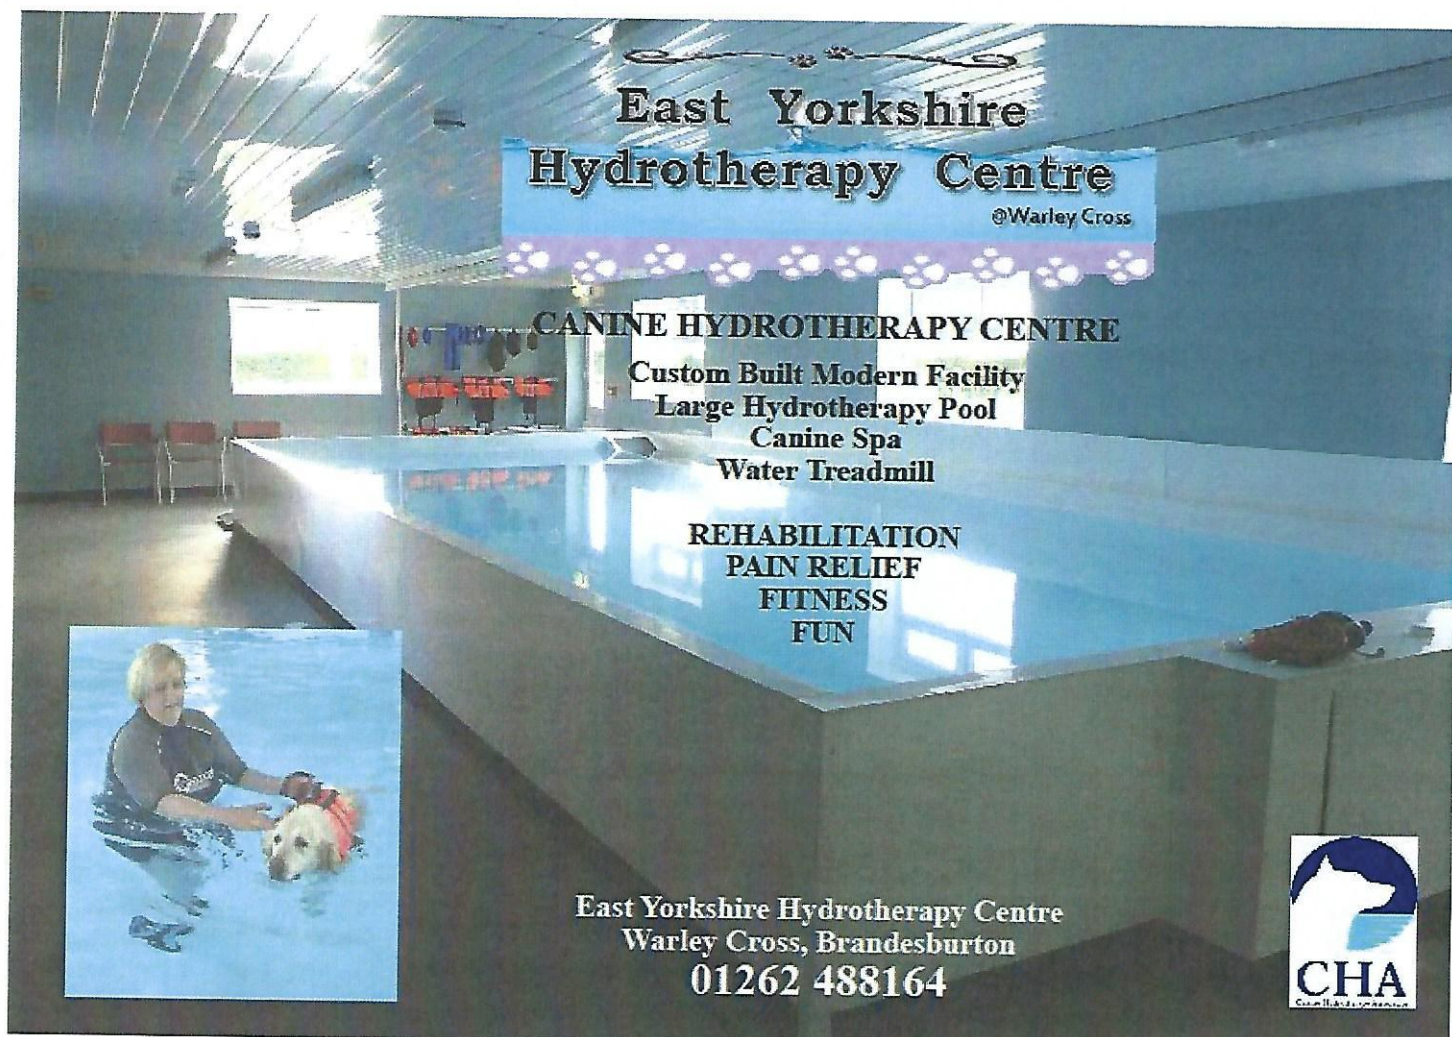

During October representatives from Town & Parish Councils & from key local groups were invited to meetings across the East Riding where they were asked to help provide East Riding of Yorkshire Council (ERYC) with up to date information on residents needs for local bus services. ERYC has devised a Parish Transport Toolkit booklet as a means of working together with local councils to survey residents and map out their transport needs. A representative from North Frodingham parish council attended one of the meetings held at Skipsea Village Hall where the Toolkit was discussed and the benefits of how everyone working together will help plan the future for local transport needs.

Library Service Review

ERYC is currently asking people for their views on how we could reshape the library service whilst retaining a viable library provision. The consultation asks people to say what they think is important about the library service and what they value most. The consultation which runs from 29th September 2015 until 21st December 2015 is an opportunity for everyone to have their say about our library service. Once all the responses have been gathered they will be considered and if any proposals are to be made to change the way in which the library service is delivered in the future residents will be consulted again before any final decision is made.

If you have a view on our library service and want to take part in the survey visit eastriding.gov.uk/libraryconsultation or alternatively paper copies are available at branch libraries, mobile libraries, customer service centres, children centres and leisure centres.

Lifestyle 2015 – The Courageous Crocodiles

During the summer holidays a group of Lifestylers called the 'Courageous Crocodiles' decided to renovate a very overgrown wildlife area at school. We wanted to create a new area that would attract wildlife and that the children could learn from. We decided to create a pond area using a pond we had taken out, a log pile and plant lots of flowers and shrubs. We also created bug houses from canes and branches.

It took us all a lot of hard work, team work and determination to reach our goal! But we did it with lots of nettle stings along the way! We painted the wooden shed green and all looked like 'the hulk' by the time we had finished. We would like to say a huge thank you to all the people that helped us, Margaret Walker for her plant donations, Mary Brown for help and plants, Mark and Sarah Storry for their help with trees and the ponds, Cherry's for lending us a chipper to shred the tree that was chopped down. To Mrs. Bell who allowed us to use the school for our opening afternoon, all the mum's and grandma's who baked lovely cakes and buns, and finally to everyone who attended and supported our 'Grand Opening'!

Lastly, we all received letters at the beginning of the half term holidays to invite us to the Hull City Hall in November, as we have won a prize for our project. We will keep you posted in the next issue of the Village Voice.

Thank you, The Courageous Crocodiles: Samantha Storry, Connor Jones, Emma Storry and Izzy Crook.

We wish all our fellow villagers of

Very Merry Christmas and a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous
New Year.

Please be aware there is now a NEW scam going about, beware of texts or Emails from a friend of yours saying they are stuck somewhere abroad having been mugged and asking you for financial help.

A couple were recently in the news having hired a "man and van" from a Facebook advert: the removal men turned up, took all their possessions and drove away never to be seen again. If you're hiring someone for an important job - don't just rely on social media.

Most people who come to your door may be genuine callers, but sometimes, you can't be sure and so you need to "think security" before opening your door to them!

'Cold call' scams typically involve fraudsters deceiving victims into believing they are speaking to a police officer, a member of bank staff, or a representative of another trusted organisation, such as a computer company in order to steal money. Always be on your guard if you receive a cold call especially if you are asked for any personal or financial information. For other hints and tips log onto the www.actionfraud.police.uk

Our next meeting for 2015 is on Thursday 17th December at the Social Centre

Talk Talk Cyber Attack.

Talk Talk, the phone and broadband provider, has been the victim of a cyber attack on their website commonly referred to as DDoS – distributed denial of service attack. This has led to hackers accessing Talk Talks servers and stealing personal data, which could affect over four million customers. It is currently unknown exactly what data has been stolen but Talk Talk has stated that there is a chance that some of the following data could have been accessed:

- Dates of birth.
- Email addresses.
- Telephone numbers.
- Talk Talk account information.
- Credit card and banking details.

Protect yourself:

- Be wary of any emails claiming to be from Talk Talk asking for additional information, such as passwords, even if they are able to tell you specific account details – this could be a phishing email and sent to gain access to your account.
- If you have already opened an email attachment, please ensure you change the passwords for all your bank, email and online shopping accounts as soon as possible.
- As well as e-mails, be VERY wary of any telephone calls claiming to be from Talk Talk which ask for additional information, or want to gain remote access to your computer. Again they may tell you specific details about your account; If you do get such a call, do not give any details, terminate the call, use a separate telephone line/mobile phone and call Talk Talk back on one of their known numbers to ascertain if the call is genuine.

Monitor your bank accounts for any unusual activity which you believe could be fraudulent.
