Introduction

In January 1946 the people of Ross-shire were experiencing the euphoria of feeling free for the first time in years. With the war having ended only months before, men were beginning to make their way home and the Ross-shire Journal was full of notices of the restart of businesses that had been put on hold while their owners were away. Many 'welcome home' groups sprung up, no doubt involved in fund-raising to provide facilities for war weary folk to reconnect with their communities and many were inevitably mourning their sad losses.

But although the war had ended there were still repercussions to be endured one of which was food shortage. In a rural community it was probably easier to be self sufficient than in the city and what better way to get a little extra sweetener in your diet than to keep a few colonies of bees. Beekeepers, during war time, were eligible for an extra sugar ration but it involved the police being responsible for checking that beekeepers had the number of colonies for which they were claiming. Sometime after the war this became the responsibility of local Associations.

No doubt a few of the men who never came home would have been beekeepers and the losses would have been noticeable amongst their beekeeping colleagues. So, what better more natural thing to do than to start, or re-start, a group with the hope of sharing the remaining expertise and try to encourage a younger generation to become proficient in the old craft especially as there was a sugar ration to be had. After all, sugar didn't come off ration until the mid-50s!!

It was in this social climate that Dingwall and District Beekeepers' Association was started on 28th January 1946.

Resolutions at the Inaugural Meeting on 28th January 1946

It was agreed that the title of the Association shall be "Dingwall and District Beekeepers' Association".

It was agreed that the district within which persons shall be resident to become members of the Association shall be the area extending from Alness Bridge in the north; Garve in the West; the County boundary in the South including the whole of the Black Isle.

The objects of the Association are:-

- (a) To promote the industry of Beekeeping on modern and profitable lines.
- (b) To unite the beekeepers of the district referred to for their mutual benefit.

Any person resident in the district of the Association can become a member on payment of a minimum Annual Subscription of 3/6d, if an adult; or 2/- if a person under the age of 18 years.

It was agreed that the Executive Committee shall consist of the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary and Treasurer and seven committee members. The quorum for an Executive meeting shall be 5. Vacancies occurring in the Executive Committee during the session shall be filled by co-option by Executive Committee.

It was agreed that the Annual General Meeting of the Association shall be held in January of each year. Twelve (12) members shall form a quorum at the Annual General Meetings. Executive Committee meeting dates shall be agreed upon by the President and Secretary according to business requirements.

It was agreed that the Association affiliate to the Scottish Beekeepers Association and take advantage of all the privileges of that connection, including the obtaining of all bee supplies and appliances at reduced rates and the perusal of books on beekeeping from its extensive library.

It was agreed to defer Insurance of members of the Association against Foul Brood Diseases until a reasonable number of members have joined the Association

(The Constitution has been altered in various aspects since the above.)

All these references were found in an attempt to discover if there had been a Dingwall Beekeepers' Group prior to 1946, instigated by a reference in the minutes of a committee meeting held on 4th February 1947 where it stated "since the revival of the Association . . . ". It has been suggested that many Groups started around 1920 when Isle of Wight or Acarine disease was at its height and beekeepers were looking for help and advice to control it. Some of these Groups would have carried on through the war and others, such as our own, may have existed and then were put on hold during wartime.

Beekeepers' President retires after 22 years

At a recent meeting of the Dingwall and District Beekeepers Association a presentation was made to Mr Thomas Stewart the retiring president.

Tom joined the association on April 18, 1974 as a committee member after moving to Muir of Ord from Inver to take up the post of headmaster of Tarradale School. Little did he expect that at the following AGM, May 1975 he would be elected president, to be reelected each of the following 22 years.

At the association's AGM in April 1997 Tom intimated that he would be standing down and he would be hanging up his veil as president. However he made it quite clear that his interest in the art of beekeeping would not decline and that he as the teacher he has been would always be available to groom the youngsters into the art.

The new president, Mr A Rattray, gave praise to the retiring president and presented both Mr and Mrs Stewart with a scroll honouring their joint loyal services to the Association, making them Honorary Life Members of the Dingwall and District Beekeepers Association. Mrs Ruth Sinclair of Beauly, committee member, presented Mrs Stewart with a floral display and finally Mr Hugh Beaton, vice-president, made the presentation of an electronic clock and radio to Tom Stewart.

In reply Mr Stewart thanked the members for their support over the years and recounted many memorable events. He added, however, a very sobering thought that he had not even contemplated on his retirement. Varroa had now arrived in the Highlands. He said now is the time for all beekeepers to come out of the woodwork and be counted, make yourself known to any beekeeping association in order that as the mite spreads apiarists can all treat our colonies together to fight the plague.

Seasons

1947 Bad winter.

The season 1948 can be written down as one of the worst on record, and activities were very much restricted owing to adverse weather.

Owing to a poor season in 1948 there were heavy losses in the Spring of 1949. Spring was not favourable and stocks had to be fed. In the first week of June a heat wave commenced. From then until the end of the season every day was a beekeepers' joy.

All beekeepers enjoyed a very successful season, honey production was one of the best, both as regards clover and heather. A number of colonies yielded over 100lbs each. With the de-control of price, the average price obtained was 3/- - 3/6d for clover and 4/- - 4/6d for heather. At the commencement of the season there was a ready demand for honey but as the season advanced difficulty was experienced in finding a market and beekeepers were left with large quantities on their hands.

- The season was bad although some heather stocks yielded well with as much as 50lbs.
- The season can be classed as a complete failure, with little or no surplus. (Second in succession)
- 1952 Third bad year in succession. "What was most disappointing was the fact that several stocks had to be fed to ensure that they would come through the winter safely."
- 1956 A very poor season again.
- 28.3.1957The Secretary Mr. Finlayson had the misfortune of losing all his stocks during the previous winter and in view of his work for the Association was offered bees to get him started again.
- 1958 Clover poor heather better.
- 1959 The honey season was excellent one of the best.
- 1960 Disastrous one of the worst on record for clover and heather.

- 1962 Disastrous again.
- Another disastrous year. Heather poor after the long freeze of the previous winter. "In short 1963 was perhaps the poorest honey year in living memory certainly the poorest since 1954." Miss Logan put colony losses in 1963 at 40%. She estimated that unless colonies were fed up to 30lbs of sugar between October 1963 and May 1964 colony loss could be 50%.
- Beekeepers procured an average yield with every established colony giving surplus. The best yield verified by Miss Logan was 120lbs.
- Average of 20lbs. Good conditions made use of Lime tree flowers. Ling yield was small. Season was regarded as 'swarmy' with a high incidence between mid-June and mid-July.
- 1966 North of Scotland College of Agriculture Highland Area General Report.
- 1967 North of Scotland College of Agriculture Highland Area General Report.
- 1983 Arrival of oil seed rape.
- 1985 Very poor Summer, lack of surplus, Honey Show cancelled.
- 1986 No Honey Show due to second fairly unproductive summer.
- Most beekeepers now find their honey laced with oil seed rape which makes extraction difficult and sections virtually impossible.
- 22.4.92 Talk of new spring sown oil seed rape developed in Scotland oil seed rape all Summer!!
- 1993 Plenty of oil seed rape honey.
- 2000 Poor year for honey production. Some oil seed rape crops had to be destroyed because of contamination with GM seed.
- 2001 Poor year with cold and wet Spring.
- 2003 Good beekeeping season with good honey harvests.
- Honey season was variable due to localised conditions; some had honey whilst others had none.
- 2005 So-so.

Diseases

22.1.1948	Reference was made to Frow's Formula for Acarine Disease. Later supplied at a cost of 36/- per gross for which members would be charged.
24.1.1951	A member of the Association reported the loss of stock as the result of Foul Brood.
May 1960	Miss Logan found American Foul Brood in two apiaries at Lochussie.
1962	Three cases of American Foul Brood (AFB) successfully treated by Miss Logan.
1963	Eight cases of AFB located and treated in the Strathpeffer and Contin areas.
1964	AFB in Ross-shire - 11 cases.
1965	AFB - 8 cases in Dingwall area and several cases of Acarine. Up until this time Sac Brood had been negligible but in 1965 there were a great number of cases.
1979	There were several cases of AFB in the area.
1980	Mr. Mobus showed an excellent film on 'Varroa'. (Probably the first mention)
22.4.1982	Varroa in Devon, Hampshire and Kent; possibly been here for 2 years.
Autumn 1984	Department of Agriculture did random tests for varroa - still clear.
September 1995	5 Bob Simpson announced whilst visiting this area that varroa had been found in Perthshire.
1998	Varroa in the Borders.
2000	Varroa confirmed in Carrbridge.
2001	Varroa established in Fife and Tayside and a foothold in Aberdeenshire.
August 2003	Varroa in our own area.

Education and Membership

July 1946	Mr. Donald MacLennan gained his Beemasters Certificate in Theory and Practice of Beekeeping. (Certificate held by the Association)
4.2.1947	To encourage membership - all members be supplied with a copy of the following booklets published by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries;
	1. Beekeeping No. 9 2. Bee Diseases No. 100
	Cost of the booklets 9d each.
11.2.1948	Mr. D. MacLennan, ex President intimated that he was prepared to give two copies of "Digges Practical Bee Guide" as prizes to the members of the Association who should be the medium of obtaining most members to join the Association.
22.4.1948	A colour film on beekeeping was hired from Mr. A.R. Cumming, Balnabruich, 89 Culduthel Street, Inverness at a cost of 10/ It was also shown in Dingwall Academy to pupils at the request of the Rector, Mr. A. W. MacKay.
20.1.1949	One copy of "Digges Practical Bee Guide" has been handed to Mr. J.J. Shanks for enrolling the greatest number of new members in the season.
25.1.1951	An interesting handbook "The Scottish Beekeepers' Handbook" was supplied to each member free of charge.
19.3.1953	Very poor attendance at the AGM for the third year running.
18.3.1954	Only six members present. Was it time to wind up the Association?
17.3.1955	Poor numbers again - subscriptions suspended but the decision to close Association deferred.
15.3.1956	Numbers at AGM improved.
1958 - 1959	Numbers poor.
1976	Beginners Courses run from November by Mr. Emerson.
1981	Four members took Beemaster examinations; Tom Stewart, I. D. Fraser, H. M. Robertson, N. Robertson.
1985	Beginners Classes run by Mr. Robertson, Struan Apiaries and Demonstration in April 1986 plus 2 others.
1993	Members attended a workshop at Drummondhill, Inverness on Varroa.
13.3.2004	Members attended an SBA update on Varroa at Oakridge College (Central Belt). They acquired a good deal of literature on the subject of Integrated Pest Management which was made available to members.
2005	Members attended varroa training days at Drummondhill where the Beekeeping Advisor from Auchincruive, Graeme Sharpe, proved as competent at putting his subject across as his forebears, Miss Logan and Bernhard Mobus.

"Beekeeping expert"

A host of friends throughout Ross-shire will be greatly shocked to learn of the sudden demise of Miss Margaret Logan, Newtonville, Muir of Ord former beekeeping expert of the North Of Scotland College of Agriculture, which occurred while on holiday in the Argentine, visiting her sister, Mrs. Kristiansen, on 18th October 1973. Miss Logan was actually attending an Apiculture Congress near Buenos Aires when she suffered a heart attack and died in hospital in the Province of Buenos Aires the following day.

Throughout her years with the North of Scotland College of Agriculture, Miss Logan did admirable work in developing a valuable rural industry in all the Highland Counties. Her missionary zeal and enterprise in fostering practical interest in bees and honey bore ever increasing fruit. Wherever hives were to be seen, from Inverness to the far North, it was a surety that Miss Logan knew about them and that her advice had been asked, season after season, with beneficial results.

Hailing from Ardross, Margaret Logan was educated at Tain Royal Academy, and with a pronounced agricultural background, naturally gravitated to Craibstone School, Aberdeen, where under the guidance of Dr. John Anderson, she took the expert bee-masters' certificate. Her results in beecraft were so remarkable that Dr. Anderson determined to have her on the College staff and in 1938 she became assistant lecturer with headquarters in Craibstone.

Whenever possible, she recommended the formation of associations which could do much to keep interest alive, nor was she forgetful of the development of beekeeping and honey production in the widely-scattered crofting areas of the Western Highlands. The ideal demonstrator, she examined from six hundred to seven hundred colonies of bees every year.

In her retirement she continued to give of her vast experience to several groups of her beekeeping friends.

Miss Logan is survived by her sister Mrs. Kristiansen; her brother Alistair died some years ago, survived by his widow, Mrs. Marian Logan, Firthview, Invergordon, and her family. To all sympathy is extended in their sudden bereavement.

Reproduced from the obituary in the Ross-shire Journal 1st November 1973

Mr. Bernhard Mobus Advisor, Beekeeping Department, North of Scotland College of Agriculture, Craibstone

10.3.1976	Introduced to the Group. Showed films and answered questions ranging from American Foul Brood to Common Market regulations. Mr. Mobus would do Queen rearing demonstrations at Mr. Stewart's apiary, Muir of Ord, at a date to be arranged.
1981	Demonstration at Mr. Hill's apiary in Contin in May and at Mr. Reid's apiary in August.
1983	Mr. Mobus was at three meetings during the year.
1984	Mr. Mobus attended three meetings during the year including the Honey Show which he judged.
1985	Mr. Mobus attended four meetings.
1986	Mr. Mobus attended three meetings, missing a fourth due to an accident.
	There was an indication that the College may cut
	Mr. Mobus's visits.

December 1987 Final visit from Mr. Mobus.

Apart from being an excellent and conscientious advisor, Mr. Mobus produced an excellent quarterly journal which is still being referred to and gave a good deal of in-depth advice.

Mr. Mobus later moved to France and then more recently in 2002 the Secretary found he was living in Angus. She wrote to him and his wife, Joanne, and received a newsy letter back indicating that Bernhard was still pleased to hear of his colleagues in the north.

Trophies

MacKenzie Cup - " a beautiful trophy made and presented to the Association by Mr. MacKenzie, Wester Urray, Muir of Ord, to be competed for annually" It is to be presented to the member with most points in the annual Honey Show.

(This trophy was donated by Mr. Duncan MacKenzie and is a turned wooden cup which originally had a carved wooden bee mounted on the lid. Unfortunately the bee inevitably got damaged and a plain replacement lid was made by James MacKenzie, his brother.)

21.4.1982

The McCreath Taylor Shield was donated by a local company at the instigation of Mr. David Emerson to be awarded for the best Exhibit in the show.

16.3.1983

Mr. Emerson offered a small shield to be called the McCreath Taylor Trophy for Baking to be presented for the best baking exhibit containing honey.
