Why is Pirbright twinned with Cagny?

What is the very special link between the two villages?

- Cagny was liberated in July 1944 by soldiers of the Guards Divisions from Pirbright. After the bombardment only two buildings in the village remained standing, the church and an old farmhouse.
- In 1988 former Pirbright resident, the late Colonel Oliver Lindsay of the Grenadier Guards, attended a military reunion to commemorate the liberation of Cagny, and was asked by Cagny residents to locate a UK village with which their village could twin. Mindful of the historic link, Col. Lindsay approached Pirbright Parish Council, and in the summer of 1992 the link was formalised.
- To mark this historic occasion the road in front of the Church at Cagny was subsequently named 'Place de Pirbright', and the road across Pirbright Village Green was named 'Avenue de Cagny'.

Putting it into practice...

Establishing and maintaining friendly relations

- The Cagny Twinning Association currently has more than 35 members from Cagny and the surrounding area.
- The Pirbright Twinning Association currently has 45 members in Pirbright and the surrounding area.
- Beyond annual cultural and gastronomic exchanges with our Twinning friends, the committees encourage conviviality between families. We also keep in touch by Facebook, WhatsApp groups and Email between visits. It is also an opportunity for members to get to know people from their own village!

Mutual understanding and respect

- The members of the Associations visit their Twinning friends every year, taking it in turns to host respective families for a Friday and Saturday night.
- During these annual visits, the hosting Twinning Committee organises and funds a day trip for the visitors and their hosts on the Saturday, followed by an evening meal with entertainment. The host family provides a meal on the Friday night.
- There is nothing to pay by the visiting family apart from the ferry fare and a small gift for their hosts

Educational and cultural links

As well as enjoying each other's company, members have the opportunity to explore the diverse cultural heritages of both England and France.
