HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY!

THE QUEEN'S PLATINUM JUBILEE

In June this year the country will celebrate the seventieth year of the Queen's reign, on the date of her coronation in 1953. So why are we celebrating in 2022? Did you know that the Princess Elizabeth became Queen in the early hours of February 6th, 1952, on the death of her father, King George VI. So the day of her accession to the Throne is actually a very sad day for Her Majesty, as it is the anniversary of the death of someone she loved very much. That is why we always celebrate her jubilees on the date of her coronation but in the anniversary year of her accession.

Look out for details of events in Pirbright to celebrate Her Majesty's Platinum Jubilee in the April edition of PeriNews. In the meantime, perhaps you could enter the national competition to invent a suitable pudding for the occasion?

THE YEAR OF THE TIGER

The Chinese New Year falls on February 1st this year and this is Year of the Tiger. The tiger is the king of all beasts in China, and people born in a Tiger year are competitive, self-confident, brave, and with great willpower and strength. Tiger years are 1938, 1950, 1962, 1974, 1986, 1998, 2010, 2022

PIRBRIGHT HISTORIANS

Winters? "Cor! Winters ain't what they used to be", cry us oldies... Stone hot water bottles. Ice on the inside of windows to write your name on. Chilblains. Frozen cream lollipop on top of glass milk bottles. Tobogganing. Sliding on the pond. And skating. Here's a lovely photo from the early '50s. Who are these happy girls? Please let us know.

ST MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS CHURCH

Just a thought.....

What's love got to do with it?

February is the shortest month of the year, but it marks some of the important sacred and secular days that we celebrate. These include: The Presentation of Jesus in the Temple (2nd); The Queen's Accession to the Throne in 1952 (6th); Racial Justice Sunday' (13th), a call for all Christians to join in the righteous struggle for racial justice, and St Valentine's Day on the 14th. But just who is St Valentine and why do we place so much emphasis on the importance of love? Back in the 70s Tina Turner sang 'What's love got to do with it? What's love but a second-hand emotion?'

I wonder, is love really a second-hand emotion? I don't know what love as a second-hand emotion looks like, but in answer to Tina Turner's question, 'What's love and what's love got to do with it?' I would respond, 'Everything!'

For example, in the New Testament, there are three Greek words that translate into English as love:

Eros, meaning lust,

Philia, meaning brotherly or sisterly love and affection, and

Agape love, meaning unconditional love that is available to everyone through the grace of God.

This is the highest form of love, the love of God for humanity, and the love of humanity for God.

So in what way is such unconditional love connected with St Valentine's Day celebrations?

The Church's celebration of St Valentine's Day had nothing to do with valentine's day as we celebrate it today. It followed the martyrdom of Valentine of Rome, a priest, martyred in 269 AD and Valentine of Terni, a bishop, martyred at Rome in 273 AD. It seems that the stories of the two people called Valentine became confused over time, and their two martyrdoms became one commemoration.

Father Valentine, the priest, laid everything on the line for what he believed in. He put the needs of others above himself, sacrificed his all and gave without demanding anything in return. That's agape love – the kind of unconditional love that recognises God's love for us and that 'we love, because God first loved us' (1 John 4:19).

Valentine's day is not limited merely to couples in love. It has a wide appeal for many people, as it captures something of God's love for us and the human love that we have for each other. In this regard, love is not a second-hand emotion at all. It is the greatest of all human qualities. It comes from God, through his Son Jesus Christ, who gave us the new commandment 'to love one another as he loves us'.

Such love is activated in us through the Holy Spirit who makes God real to us and enables us to experience God's love and presence in our lives.

So, as I close, I ask, if you could take love, put it in a box and wrap it up as a gift to give to those whom you love, what would you put in the box?

CUNNINGHAM HOUSE

Pre-Covid, when it was safe to share air space with others, Cunningham House was a popular choice for Duke of Edinburgh volunteers. We welcomed many young people into the house to complete their volunteering hours by helping out in a variety of ways, including playing the piano, baking, helping in the garden and playing blackjack (using Smarties as chips of course!) But most of all, the residents and volunteers enjoyed chatting to each other; exchanging stories of their hopes and dreams for the future, and their memories of the past. We hope to be able to have our young volunteers safely back in the house soon, but in the meantime, they have been completing their volunteering hours by baking delicious cakes at home for the residents' tea and sweeping leaves in the garden. If any slightly older individuals are interested in volunteering at Cunningham House, our House Committee are currently looking for new members. Please contact the house if you are interested on 01483 488 751.

NAMING CHILDREN

Three new fathers were in a pub. 'My son was born on St George's Day,' said the first, 'so obviously we called him George.' 'That's a coincidence,' said the second man, 'my daughter was born on Valentine's Day, so we decided to call her Valentine.' 'That's amazing!' cried the third, 'Exactly the same thing happened with my boy Pancake.'

CHURCHYARD CHRONICLES

As everyone is getting into the decorating mood, the churchyard animals decided to give the church a fresh coat of paint. We found a large tin of paint and some brushes in a cupboard, and got to work. But we hadn't got far when it became clear that the paint we had would not be enough to finish the job. We didn't fancy a trip to Homebase to buy some more, a storm was on its way, and we just wanted to get it finished. Then the squirrels had the bright idea that, if we thinned the paint with water, we would be able to finish the job before it started to rain., and then we could all go home, So that's what we did. The thinned paint went on very quickly, and we stood back to admire our handiwork. To be honest, it wasn't quite as good as we had hoped. In fact it was a bit of a mess. One by one, the animals began to slink away, before the Churchwardens caught us and told us to do it again properly.

We hadn't got as far as the Lych Gate when the heavens opened, the rain teemed down, and we watched as all our hard work was washed away. Suddenly, from the clouds, a great, booming voice called down,
"THINNERS REPAINT! REPAINT AND THIN NO MORE"

So I can't stop, there's still a lot to do!

FEBRUARY GARDENING TIPS from Wellie

Bulbous and tuberous plants kept in containers over winter can get damp and rot. Pots of dahlias, agapanthus and lilies should be stacked on their sides, one on top of the other, in a cold greenhouse to stop moisture getting into the roots. When the weather improves in February or March, stand them the right way up, water well and start them growing again. Cut back herbaceous perennials and deciduous grasses left for winter interest before new growth commences. Prune shrubs hard such as Cornus and Salix grown for winter coloured stems. Winter flowering jasmine can be pruned after it has finished flowering. Prune Wisteria and Campsis by cutting back side shoots to 2 or 3 buds. Prune late summer flowering shrubs such as Buddleja, Lavatera and Fuchsia hard. In the greenhouse aubergines, tomatoes, chilli, celery, cabbage and leeks can be sown.

Outside in the vegetable garden peas, parsnips, broad bean, shallots and onion sets can be sown. Buy seed potatoes and start chitting them. Try to finish pruning apple and pear trees by the end of the month. Cut autumn raspberry canes to ground level ensuring you leave no stumps to harbour diseases. Prune out a quarter of black-currant older growth at ground level. Put up bird and bat boxes, keep bird feeders and birdbaths topped up, and clean them regularly. An old saying of weather lore comes as a warning to gardeners as well as wildlife – If the birds sing before Candlemas (2nd February), they will cry before May.
