EDITORIAL

We shouldn't have to introduce ourselves, but just in case we have escaped Gvernymynydd's beady eye - this is Graham Davies and Mair Hayes speaking to you as the newly appointed editors of your newsletter. In the months to come we are hoping to present concise, succinct but entertaining news. In order to help us achieve this we will very much appreciate the valuable co-operation that has been extended in the past, by the various committees and other interested individuals, to those responsible for gathering the news.

So if you've got an interesting tit-bit which might tickle the fancy of our readers - without causing a minor sensation!, you will have come to the right place.

Now all that remains for you to do is sit back, put your feet up and take a gander at Gvernymynydd's very own "what's going on where - and who's doing it" .....
