TO S. PARRY RE:- COUNTRY LOVERS POEM:- Have you paused to think of the reverse side of the coin?

My Husband worked hard on a very low wages,
We bought our home, which took us ages,
My Husband died at Fifty Two, overworked
Because he never "Shirked".
Now I find my paltry pension,
Is'nt enough to pay my way.
The cost of living rising and rising,
My simple life's not worth "Despising".
Now I have to contemplate,
Leaving my home, or selling the "plate".
As I have no "plate" to sell,
I sell the garden, I've loved so well.
Stop and ponder on old folks fate,
Before it gets for you too late,
No longer able to live as they like,
and much too old to get on their bike.
The only wealth they have any more,
is the homes they strived for,
and their own front door.
This country I find a greedy disgrace,
if your not affluent, you have no place.
I'm selling my garden to keep the "wolf"
from the door.
Its certain I'll regret it for evermore.
Don't advise me to mortgage my home
To buy an income to keep my "dome"
Too many people are crippled this way,
Rising costs and more to pay.
Perhaps you'll discover,
S. Parry "Country Lover",
Before you criticise,
you have to rationalize.
From your Ivory Castle, be glad,
You don't have my "hassle" for:-
As you are now, so once was I.
As I am now, so might you be:-
"EVENTUALLY".

N. HOBSON .
