DRUG ABUSE

The talk on this subject by our local police officer was unfortunately very poorly attended. The shocking message to our community is that drug pushers have targeted the rural areas around Mold to pursue their lethal trade. The meeting arranged by Community Policewoman Sue Jones gave those present an opportunity to see material currently available to our youngsters, such as cannabis, amphetamines and ecstasy tablets. The awful long-term effects were described, all the more appalling as pushers are assuring our youngsters that the drugs are harmless. Our thanks to Sue Jones for this opportunity to learn more about the current danger to young people. Should anyone wish to consult her on this subject Sue can be contacted at Mold Police Station 752321.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL

The last meeting of the present council is as usual on the last Thursday of the month, April 27th. However following the elections on May 4th, the first meeting of the new council takes place on Thursday May 18th. This is in compliance with the local Government Act. As always the public is welcome to attend and the meeting is at Gwernymynydd School, starting at 7.15 p.m. Community Policewoman Sue Jones will also be present should anyone wish to obtain advice or help.
