

Walks around Gwernymynydd & Cadole Maes Garmon

4 miles Road, tracks, fields and woodland. Muddy and slippery in places during wet weather.

Follow the Weary Willy walk to where it regains the tarmac at point [5] . Turn right down lane towards Mold. After approx 400 yards take second (unnamed) cart-track on left [1]

Follow cart track through woods downhill to reach Lon Maes Garmon [2].

Left along tarmac farm road towards Maes Garmon Farm. Look for footpath sign over bridge and stile on left [3] at bend just before farm buildings.

Over this stile then immediate right through gap in raggedy hedge. Walk diagonally right and upwards under overhead cables across field to a stile visible in boundary with woodland below skyline[4].

Over this stile

Follow path zig-zagging down through woodland. At first, the path is not so distinct especially when there are leaves on the ground - progress generally forwards and downwards until the path straightens out and is more clearly marked..

Look out for a stile and field boundary at far edge of the woodland and a small planked bridge [5].

Immediate left once over the stile.

Then head straight on following edge of woods to right

Continue towards the main road and a stile in the far right hand corner of field by a house [6].

Then left along main road towards Gwernaffield taking care where pavement narrows.

On reaching Gwernaffield look out for footpath sign on left hand side of road opposite church and alongside a small green area with a memorial [7]

Follow this path through past a tall leylandi hedge. It emerges onto the small estate. Follow the circular estate road either to the left or right to find a continuation of the footpath on the opposite side.

This time the path emerges at a stile at the top of a field.[8] Turn left and head diagonally downhill

Over a stile through a big hedge

Head slightly right across next field to a stile which is located in the bottom corner at the left hand edge of the white bungalows.

Down and then up some old steps to cross the small stream alongside a house at what looks like an ancient pathway.[9]

Keep to the fight hand edge of the next field towards the obvious stile in the bottom corner.

Finally head diagonally and right upwards across the next field to a stone stile below a pole.

Turn right up the track once over the stone stile to join the Hafod Road.[10] Turn left here and continue to join the Weary Willy walk at its point [6]

Maes Garmon - Summary

Follow the Weary Willy walk to where it regains the tarmac at point [5] . Turn right down lane towards Mold. After approx 400 yards take second (unnamed) cart-track on left [1]

Follow cart track through woods downhill to reach Lon Maes Garmon [2].

Left along tarmac farm road towards Maes Garmon Farm. Look for footpath sign over bridge and stile on left [3] at bend just before farm buildings.

Over this stile then immediate right through gap in raggedy hedge. Walk diagonally right and upwards under overhead cables across field to a stile visible in boundary with woodland below skyline[4].

Over this stile

Follow path zig-zagging down through woodland. At first, the path is not so distinct especially when there are leaves on the ground - progress generally forwards and downwards until the path straightens out and is more clearly marked..

Look out for a stile and field boundary at far edge of the woodland and a small planked bridge [5].

Immediate left once over the stile.

Then head straight on following edge of woods to right.

Continue towards the main road and a stile in the far right hand corner of field by a house [6].

Then left along main road towards Gwernaffield taking care where pavement narrows.

On reaching Gwernaffield look out for footpath sign on left hand side of road opposite church and alongside a play area. [7]

Follow this path through past a tall leylandi hedge. It emerges onto the small estate. Follow the circular estate road either to the left or right to find a continuation of the footpath on the opposite side.

This time the path emerges at a stile at the top of a field.[8] Turn left and head diagonally downhill

Over a stile through a big hedge.

Head slightly right across next field to a stile which is located in the bottom corner at the left hand edge of the white bungalows.

Down and then up some old steps to cross the small stream alongside a house at what looks like an ancient pathway.[9]

Keep to the right hand edge of the next field towards the obvious stile in the bottom corner.

Finally head diagonally and right upwards across the next field to a stone stile below a pole.

Turn right up the track once over the stone stile to join the Hafod Road.[10] Turn left here and continue to join the Weary Willy walk at its point [6]