

SAVE THE DATE

Turning Volunteer Participation upside down

Friday, 16 March 2018
Victoria Halls, Helensburgh

- Volunteering in Scotland is going down!
- Public needs are going up!
- How do we re think the ways we engage public servants and citizens to achieve shared outcomes?
- Let's enjoy an opportunity to re-frame the questions and discover fresh ground, and at the same time throw out some old thinking!

As part of the Improvement Service's Leading Practice Conference Programme, join Volunteer Scotland, the Improvement Service, Argyll and Bute Third Sector Interface and Argyll and Bute Council on their journey to realise how volunteers and public services can collectively improve outcomes for their communities.

Book your place at:

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/leading-practice-turning-volunteer-participation-upside-down-tickets-42707171299>

Volunteer
Scotland

improvement is.
service