

Introducing the Stonehaven & District Community Council: Your Voice in Local Matters

Stonehaven is a vibrant town with a rich history and a powerful sense of community. But have you ever wondered how local concerns are addressed or who represents your voice in discussions with local authorities? This is where the Stonehaven & District Community Council (SDCC) plays a crucial role.

What is the Stonehaven & District Community Council?

The SDCC is a voluntary body that represents the interests of Stonehaven's residents, working to improve the town and ensure that local voices are heard in decision-making processes. Community councils were established in Scotland to bridge the gap between local authorities and the people they serve. SDCC plays a vital role in this by acting as a direct link between the community and Aberdeenshire Council, as well as other public bodies.

What Does SDCC Do?

SDCC covers a broad range of topics that affect the community, including:

- Planning and Development: Reviewing local planning applications and ensuring that developments align with the best interests of Stonehaven residents.
- Infrastructure and Environment: Advocating for road maintenance, flood prevention measures, and sustainable environmental practices.
- Community Safety: Addressing concerns related to crime, traffic, and public safety in collaboration with local law enforcement.
- Local Events and Initiatives: Supporting and promoting events that enhance community engagement and improve Stonehaven's social fabric.

Why is SDCC Important to You?

As a resident, your input is invaluable in shaping the future of Stonehaven. SDCC provides a platform for community members to voice concerns, propose ideas, and collaborate on projects that matter. Whether it is improving public spaces, ensuring better facilities, or simply making sure your concerns are heard by local government, SDCC is your advocate.

How Can You Get Involved?

Engaging with SDCC is simple and rewarding. Here's how you can take part:

- Attend Meetings: SDCC holds regular meetings, open to all residents, where key local issues are discussed.
- Share Your Views: Raise concerns, suggest improvements, or bring forward ideas that can benefit the community.
- Volunteer or Join the Council: If you're enthusiastic about making a difference, consider joining SDCC or volunteering to support its initiatives.
- Stay Connected: Follow SDCC on social media and visit the website for updates on ongoing projects and events.

Monthly Updates in The Bellman

To keep the community informed, SDCC will be publishing a series of articles each month in The Bellman. These updates will share important news, highlight upcoming events, and provide insights into the council's ongoing work. In addition, they will explore in more detail how SDCC functions, the responsibilities of its officers and councillors, and how they work together to serve the community. This is a fantastic opportunity for residents to stay engaged, learn about local developments, and contribute to discussions that shape the future of Stonehaven.

Your Community, Your Voice

The Stonehaven & District Community Council is here to ensure that Stonehaven remains a wonderful place to live, work, and visit. But for it to be truly effective, it needs the voices of the people it represents.
