Corsenside Parish Council Emergency Plan

The Parish Council has an online emergency plan. It is an evolving document and can be found at parish-council.com/CorsensideParishCouncil/emergency Included online is more detailed advice for before or during an emergency and a risk assessment highlighting potential problems.

Scan with a smartphone to visit the above website:

Use this document to prepare your household for emergencies. By completing this plan and keeping it safe you can have quick and easy access to vital information.

If you become aware of a serious incident happening or threatening to develop, call the emergency services on 999. Try to give as much accurate detail as you can.

In an emergency, unless directed otherwise, the advice is go inside, stay inside and tune into your local radio station for further instructions and updates.
BBC Radio Newcastle can be found at 95.4 FM.

Do not throw away – please keep to hand!

If you cannot contact each other, where will you meet up or who you can leave a message with?

Within the Parish if phones are not working it is suggested that you visit The Gun, Ridsdale or Corsenside Parish Hall, West Woodburn. It is hoped people can use these locations to share information and leave one another messages.
